

Mathematics professor Wei-Chi Yang received the Radford University Foundation Distinguished Creative Scholar Award

Mathematics professor Wei-Chi Yang received the Radford University Foundation Distinguished Creative Scholar Award. Yang, who has been a member of the RU faculty in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics since 1989, initiated the annual Asian Technology Conference in Mathematics in 1995 and also founded the international peer-refereed Electronic Journal of Mathematics and Technology.